

Finland's national economy is strongly linked to global material cycles

Key question:

How can Finland act strategically, agilely and in a forward position in relation to natural resources?

The Process at a Glance

Bioeconomy Strategy

Right timing

Bottom-up initiative

Participatory process

PPP-partnership

Neutral coordinating body

Sauli Rouhinen

Source: Eeva Hellström, Sitra

29/06/2011

Structure of the Strategy

A comprehensive natural resource policy

- Vision
- Strategic goals
- Areas where change is needed
- First steps

Sector-specific Issues and measures

- Bioeconomy
- Mineral economy
- Water economy
- Ecosystem services

