Budget 2017

The Malmö Commission's work is complemented by ambitious work in order to, as the first municipality in Sweden, implement the UN Global sustainability goals locally.

1. A young global and modern city

Malmö is the city that is at the forefront, which shows courage and is in constant motion. During the year, the focus is on continuing to develop the work according to the Malmö Commission's recommendations. The social investment perspective and knowledge alliances with the surrounding community are at the heart of it.

The UN's global sustainability goals are transformed into local goals to be a guiding principle in the city's continued work. A new organization will take shape during the year under the municipal government in order to lead the city's sustainability and innovation work in cooperation with external actors as well as other committees and administrations in the city.

Goal by the City Council

The citizens of Malmö should be proud over their young, global and modern city where questions of equality, anti-discrimination, environment and participation are high on the agenda.

Prioritisation for 2017

Malmö should be in the top league that shows courage and is in constant perpetuation. During this year the focus will be on continuing the implementation of the recommendations by the Malmö commission. The social investment agenda and knowledge alliances with other societal actors are central.

The UN's global goals for sustainable development will be translated to the local level to become the leading star for the continuing work. A new organisation shall be established und the city council with the objective to lead the city's work with sustainable development and innovation, in cooperation with both external actors and the municipal committees and departments.

Challenges and possibilities

- Conflicting targets within the SDGs. How to prioritise? (cannot be ignored...)
- Subjective judgements: whom do we build the sustainable city for
- Holistic approach leads to new ways of working
- The goals contain "something for everyone"
- Top down and bottom up implementation gives strength
- Compare with the efforts and effects of the MDG....

Thank you!
