The 2030-Panel

2030-panelet.dk

A group of people are seated around a long, round table in a restaurant or meeting room. The room has green walls and a large mirror. The people are engaged in conversation and looking towards the center of the table. The lighting is warm and focused on the table.

Why and how was the 2030-panel set up?

- An identified need for partnerships and cooperation in order to reach the SDGs –thus a need to collaborate across sectors
- A wish to establish a forum for dialogue and cooperation

The work of the 2030-panel

Members

The 2030-Panel consists of 25 strong and diverse profiles designated by The 2030-Network as representatives of key players in Danish society and by virtue of their personal capacity and experience with implementation and fulfillment of the SDG's nationally and globally. Sara Krüger Falk, Director in Global Compact Network, is chairman of The 2030-Panel.

Purpose

The 2030-Panel supports the political work of The 2030-Network through knowledge sharing, analysis and sparring. The 2030-Panel can take independent initiatives and is not subject to political guidelines by the Network.

Baseline

The panel has launched the world's first open SDG development project that aims to establish inclusive, supplementary Danish indicators on the status of the SDG's in Denmark.

The baseline project, carried out by Statistics Denmark, is implemented to motivate and facilitate political action towards the 2030 Agenda in a national context.

The 2030 Network

The All Party Coalition for Sustainable Goals (2030-Network) consists of 69 members of the Danish Parliament from all parties who wish to cooperate on the implementation of the SDG's.

TARGET 1.1.
ERADICATE ABSOLUTE POVERTY

Suggested Danish indicator 1.1.J. Number of homeless people in Denmark

Background

The World Bank's official limit for extreme poverty is currently set at USD 1.90 a day, which is equivalent to about DKK 13. This form of extreme poverty is only found to an extremely limited extent in Denmark. On the other hand, poverty in Denmark can be defined by the extent of the vulnerable groups living on the edge of society, the members of which, as a result of a lack of economic and personal resources, lead lifestyles that, according to Danish norms, means they are considered underserving. This is especially true of the homeless people.

In Denmark, the Danish Center for Social Science Research (VIVE) heads a census of the homeless people every two years. The count includes all homeless people from young people under 18 to older people over 60. In addition to age, the census statistics can be disaggregated by sex and ancestry, including Denmark or other Nordic countries, the rest of the EU, the Middle East, Africa and other countries.

Trend

The last three censuses show an increasing trend in the number of homeless people. In 2019, the number of homeless people was estimated at 6,431, which is an increase of almost 5 per cent compared to the census in 2015. Homelessness among young people under the age of 25 has received special attention in the fight against homelessness in Denmark. Here, a significant drop has occurred. On the other hand, the number of foreign homeless people has increased.

Strong involvement in the governments formal work on implementing the SDGs

Styrket sekretariatsbetjening af 2030-Panelet. 2030-Panelet har en helt afgørende rolle for arbejdet med Verdensmålene i Danmark. Både gennem sine egne aktiviteter samt som aktiv medspiller for regeringen. Formålet med 2030-Panelet er at understøtte 2030-Netværkets politiske arbejde gennem analysearbejde, sparring, videndeling og møder med netværket omkring selvstændige emner. Der bliver også i de kommende år brug for Panelets indsats, hvis Danmark skal nå i mål. Den styrkede sekretariatsbetjening understøtter bl.a. den parlamentariske forankring af Verdensmålene samt Panelets arbejde med at monitorere og implementere Verdensmålene nationalt og internationalt. Regeringen vil også foreslå, at Panelet årligt arrangerer en opfølgning på regeringens Fremdriftsrapport, og at Panelet fortsat prioriterer Leave no one behind-dagsordenen, da Panelets brede forankring og ressourcer giver gode muligheder for resultater også inden for denne dagsorden.

5.2.2 Expert Panels

The following chapters are written by the 2030 Panel (end of April 2021) and the Council for Corporate Social Responsibility and Sustainable Development Goals (early May 2021).

The 2030 Panel

The 2030 Panel is an advisory body established by the Danish Parliament's Cross-party Coalition for the Sustainable Development Goals, the 2030 Network. The 2030 Panel consists of 25 strong and diverse stakeholders designated by the 2030 Network as representatives of key players in the Danish society by virtue of their personal capacity and experience with implementation and fulfilment of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) nationally and globally. Sara Krüger Falk, Director of Global Compact Network Denmark, is Chairman of the 2030 Panel.

The aim of the Panel is to anchor the SDGs broadly within the Danish society and to support and provide advice for possible SDG solutions that enable Danish politicians to act - faster and in knowledge-based partnerships. The diversity of the 2030 Panel ensures a broad perspective on the subject matter, although all panel members are not necessarily able to contribute to or have positions on all SDG subjects due to their different areas of expertise. This is also the case in the below-mentioned key changes/lessons learned in the Danish implementation of the SDGs, which the 2030 Panel wishes to highlight:

The Panel also works to promote the SDG agenda through:

- Interaction with ministers and civil servants to influence political SDG action plans
- Information on the SDG agenda to spread and promote ownership widely in the Danish society
- Participation in SDG debates, events and campaigns
- A specific working group on education whose purpose is to anchor knowledge and learning about the SDG's as a part of the Danish educational system
- Identifying and distributing the yearly SDG award given to a person/corporation who has made an extraordinary effort to promote the SDG's in Denmark
