Tour 1: Energy – from muscle power to power plant

On our journey back in time, we find out how people harnessed the power of water or wind as early as the Middle Ages – and why we are now returning to these “old” forms of energy to generate power in a more eco-friendly way.

Tour 2: Ingenious women

Marie Curie, Ada Lovelace and Margarete Schütte-Lihotzky – these and many other women did ground-breaking pioneering work and contributed significantly to technological history with their work, knowledge and creativity.

For a long time, the accomplishments of women went unnoticed; they were often overshadowed by their famous brothers, fathers or husbands. We make the life and work of female scientists and engineers the focus of attention.
