ESDN YOUTH EVENT 2023

How can Europe shape a sustainable world?

How can Europe help to shape a sustainable world also outside of the EU? How can Europe take responsibility for the so-called spillover emissions, for international land use and the material footprint caused by European production and consumption in other parts of the world? What impact does Europe have? What policies are in place to address spillover effects?

We would like to discuss this and more at the ESDN YOUTH EVENT on October 25-28, 2023 in Berlin between

- European UN Youth Delegates and Representatives of National Organisations or Youth Councils for Sustainable Development (SD)
- Young European Civil Servants
- Members of the European Sustainable Development Network (ESDN)
- Experts on spillover effects and SD policy processes

Program (see page 2)

The event starts on October 25 at 6 pm and consists of two parts. On 25th October (coloured green), Youth Delegates will have a chance to learn more about spillovers effects and Europe's responsibility from experts. On the following days (blue), the Youth Delegates will be joined by ESDN civil servants and experts and discuss how such effects are addressed and what further steps need to be taken.

Venue

The event will take place at the German Federal Ministry of the Environment, Nature Conservation, Nuclear Safety, and Consumer Protection (BMUV), Stresemannstraße 128 – 130, 10117 Berlin. This is an on-site event, there will be no live streaming and no full recording.
